

Preface

In 2021, the CSCNS (International Conference on Computer Science, Communication and Network Security) was held with support for the 3rd time. In 2019, CSCNS was held for the first time (offline meeting) in Sanya, China and was attended by invited speakers and participants from around the world. The 2nd in 2020 the same. The 3rd CSCNS was scheduled to open in December in Sanya (China), but was eventually held online due to the COVID-19 and its influence.

Despite the influence of COVID-19 and all other difficulties, scientists and scholars worked hard and made inspiring progress in computer science and communication technology and developed new application fields. With CSCNS2021, we invited scholars to share with worldwide colleagues their latest advance in research and to speak on their creative ideas for discussion and communication. Even though we were not able to meet each other in person, the passion for communication was not affected and CSCNS2021 yielded important results as support to its participants.

Our thankfulness to all speakers and contributors and we genuinely hope we will meet in the next meeting.
